Nordhaus told the CERT tribes potential problems facing tribes in the wake of the high court decision could include new limits on tribal taxation imposed by the U.S. Congress or by the Interior Secretary.

Nordhaus urged tribes to check their constitutions to determine whether taxing powers are enabled by the provisions of their tribal constitutions. He said tribes could amend their constitutions to guarantee taxation powers are contained. Nordhaus also said tribes should look at the Interior Department's possible establishment of guidelines for tribal taxation if the approval of the Interior Secretary is required under tribal constitutional provisions.

"We may have to counteract pressures from the Congress to limit or destroy tribal taxation powers," said Nordhaus. "The oil companies are afraid of the unknown. And companies are a little more suspicious of tribes than states. We have to establish a track record that tribes will be reasonable and consistent."

"Tribes are now in a strong position also to deal with the states. Tribes have to look carefully at state taxes on oil and gas production. Should tribes align themselves with industry against all state oil and gas production taxes?"

Nordhaus said the CERT Tribal Tax Policy Forum could enter into discussions both with other governments and with industry "to let them know you won't impose a tax which is prohibitive."

In other major actions, the CERT membership was expanded from 29 American Indian tribes to 34 with the addition of the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation in Oregon with uranium, Turtle Mountain Chippewa of North Dakota with oil and gas, Walker River Paiute of Nevada with uranium and geothermal potential, Hualapai Tribe of Arizona also with uranium and geothermal potential, and the Pawnee Tribe of Oklahoma with holdings of oil and gas.

Five other CERT policy resolutions included:

- Opposition to the recommendation of the Linowes Commission to assess tribes one-half of one percent of current royalties to establish a self-sustaining fund for federal mineral royalty management as "unjust if not unlawful";
- Request for further clarification of President Ronald Reagan's New Federalism as it pertains to Indian tribes and the federal trust responsibility to Indian tribes;
- Opposition to draft legislation prepared by the Western Regional Council (WRC) entitled The Indian Water Rights Act of 1981 as a prime threat to Indian property water holdings;
- Endorsement of a bill in the U.S. Senate to provide $50 million in new funding and programs for the Administration for Native Americans in DHHS;
- Opposition to the Ancient Indian Land Claims Settlement Act introduced last Feb. 9 which would "wipe out all present Indian claims for return of Indian lands in the states of New York and South Carolina, with implications for others." The Senate version, S. 2084, was introduced by Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, R-N.Y., and the House version, H.R. 5494, was introduced by Reps. Gary Lee and George Wortley, R-N.Y., and Ken Holland, D-S.C.

The CERT member tribes also moved to form a CERT Economic Development Policy Working Group in conjunction with the National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) headquartered in the capital and other Indian groups to testify jointly before the Congress in late April and May, before hearings of the Senate Select Committee on Indian Affairs in the capital.

Named to the economic working group were Councilman Caleb Shields of Montana's Fort Peck Reservation, Councilman Ronald Gutierrez of the Spokane Tribe of Washington state, and Gov. Harry Early of New Mexico's Laguna Pueblo.

CERT Economic Analyst Ronald L. Trosper said that the budget request by the Reagan administration for Indian programs for fiscal year 1983 was 8.2 percent less than for fiscal year 1982. But, said Trosper, "If the cost of government services rises by seven percent in FY1983, then the real cut in Indian programs will be 15 percent."

Trosper said major impacts to be felt by Indian tribes as a result of the Reagan cuts would be zero-funding for new health facilities, reduction of Indian housing programs by 59 percent, reduction in Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) school construction funds by 91 percent, zero-funding of economic planning, full elimination of Energy Department programs, reduction of employment and training funds by 46 percent, and slimming of Indian economic development support funds by 31 percent.

Observed Assiniboine-Sioux Councilman Caleb Shields of the Reaganomics shrinkage for Indian tribes:

"I think my tribe in Montana might rename itself El Salvador, declare that all our people are Sioux, and ask that Indian affairs be transferred back to the War Department [from the Interior Department]. That might do some good."

CONTINUING AND NEW FIELD MINERAL STUDIES BETWEEN
BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS AND BUREAU OF MINES

I. Description of Work

This agreement covers the continuation of Phase II projects that started in FY 1980, and one new Phase II project that will start in FY 1982. The continuing Phase II projects were started in FY 1980 under supplement to Interagency Agreement No. 17 and continued in FY 1981 under Interagency Agreement No. 19.

This Agreement will permit the completion of Tule River Reservation, California, and the continuation of Duck Valley Reservation, Nevada, in FY 1982. This agreement will also permit the start up of one new Phase II Study - Walker River Reservation, Nevada.

Under this agreement, the Bureau of Mines will undertake field studies of mineral and energy resources on Indian lands as follows:

Reservation	Work
Walker River Nevada (Appendix A)	Assessment of iron, copper, manganese, tungsten, gold, silver, mercury, soda, pumice, and building stone potential

Description of work for the continuing Phase II studies is contained in Interagency Agreement Supplement No. 17.

II. Duration of Agreement and Reports

- A. This agreement covers the period from October 1, 1981, to September 30, 1982. Modification, if necessary, will require the consent of both parties.
- B. The Bureau of Mines will provide a letter summarizing work progress to the Bureau of Indian Affairs by November 1, 1982.
- C. The Bureau of Mines will provide final administrative reports on those studies completed to the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

D. Final Administrative Reports due on Continuing and New Phase II's:

Tule River Reservation, California	9/30/82 (amended)
Duck Valley Reservation, Nevada	3/31/83 (amended)
Walker River Reservation, Nevada	3/31/84

- E. The Bureau of Mines will treat all data, such as drill hole logs, maps, assays, analyses, and geophysical information as proprietary. No distribution of such reports will be made, except to authorized agencies of the Department of the Interior, without the written permission of the tribal governing body concerned.

III. Financial Provisions

- A. Funding of this agreement by the Bureau of Indian Affairs depends upon favorable actions by the Congress and the Administration.

- B. The FY 1982 costs of these mineral studies are:

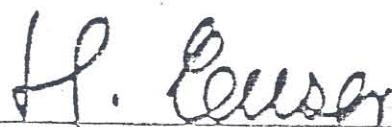

Reservation	Cost
Tule River, California	$ 24,000
Duck Valley, Nevada	112,900
Walker River, Nevada	93,400
	$230,300

- C. The Bureau of Indian Affairs will transfer $230,300 to the Bureau of Mines to cover the direct costs of these mineral studies. The Bureau of Mines will bear indirect support costs.

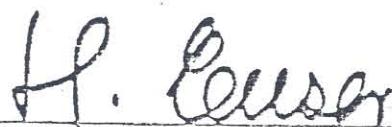

- D. The Bureau of Mines will use Form SF-1081 to bill for payment. All bills and correspondence will refer to this Interagency Agreement No. 23 and appropriation symbol number W00-40/2/3800/5320.

FY 1982 Phase II Study

Appendix A: Assessment of Mineral Resource Potential of the Walker River Reservation, Nevada

I. Need for Work

Under Phase I of the BIA Energy and Mineral Resource Program, the available information on mineral resources of the Walker River Reservation was compiled, and needs for further information identified. From the Phase I Study it was concluded that the reservation lies in an area favorable for copper occurrences. Copper-iron deposits are known on the reservation. Commodities recommended for study are; iron, copper, manganese, tungsten, gold, silver, mercury, soda, pumice and building stone.

II. Description of Work

A. Conduct a sampling program that includes:

- ✓1. Regional stream sediment geochemical survey.
- ✓2. Rock sampling of old workings and mineralized zones.
- ✓3. Soil samples, if appropriate, in the vicinity of old prospects.

B. Conduct geophysical investigations:

(Magnetic Surveys, I.P. Surveys, if appropriate, and Scintillometer Surveys)

C. Conduct geologic mapping of selected areas on the reservation and compile available data on previous drilling and exploration programs.

III. Durations of Project and Reports

1. Subject to this agreement, the Bureau of Mines will complete this project in FY 1984.
2. A final administrative report, summarizing the results of the project will be completed by March 31, 1984.
