LOCATION

Fairview Mining District, Churchill County, Nevada, 43 miles from Fallon.

GEOLOGY

A shear zone in andesite porphyry. A quartz vein is found along the footwall of the shear zone. Mineralization consists of iron oxide, some pyrite, occasional galena, and free gold. The quartz vein and shear zone have a northeast-southwest strike and dip about 70° southwest.

DEVELOPMENT

Development comprising about 1,000 feet of work consists of two adit tunnels on the strike of the quartz vein, and crosscuts. The adit tunnels are separated by a vertical distance of about 200 feet.

No ore reserves.
