LOCATION

Near the old town of Reveille, Nye County, Nevada, 22 miles from Warm Springs.

GEOLOGY

Two veinlike occurrences in the bedding planes of tilted limestone carry stibnite.

DEVELOPMENT

Development consists of a 200-foot adit tunnel driven on one of the stibnite-bearing structures, from which an 80-foot raise has been driven to the surface and from which a 30-foot winze has been sunk on the structure. The two veinlike structures are connected by a 130-foot crosscut driven from the adit tunnel. There is a 40-foot open cut on the outcrop of the other parallel structure. No minable stibnite ore has been exposed by this work.
