Memo To: Leila Shrider, Property Records
Lorin Bunker, Maps and Research

From: Helen H. Wharton

Date: September 14, 1970

Subject: Re-evaluation of purpose, achievements and the future direction of this research.

The purpose was expressed in a memo of Mr. J. Foley to Mr. A. J. Anderson:

done
Phase 1: Working with patent survey plats; map by metes and bounds description, the claims and properties we own. I understand that Phase 1 has been completed.

Phase 2: To investigate the relationship of owned claims to each other; and owned claims to unowned claims in the Tonopah Mining District.

My concern has been with Phase 2. It appears that the relationship of "owned" claims to each other is presently of less immediate pertinence than that of "owned claims to unowned claims" UNLESS it is desired to deed-out any of the "owned" parcels. In that event, the first portion of Phase 2 must be thoroughly checked before any "deed-outs" are made.

In the time allotted so far, only the foundations have been started and I have had an opportunity to examine the directions of study available, plus familiarize myself with current inter-office records and systems as well as courthouse records and systems.

Begun so far:

1. A register of documents we have purchased, with inter-office file location.
2. Library of documents which have been mapped, indexed and condensed where possible into ready reference form. Especially where a document will have an effect on several properties.
3. Standardized forms and a system for orderly procedures have been proposed and are being given preliminary testing.
4. Three of the Nye County properties have been researched and one week was spent checking on a special assignment in Esmeralda County.

Observations and recommendations:

1. The line of demarcation on the Desert Queen claim between Hughes Tool Company portion and that retained by the Tri-State Realty Company surface rights must be corrected.
2. The so-called Lot 1B, purporting to be part of David's Addition, on the Desert Queen Claims, owned by Hughes Tool Company and lying within the Hughes Tool Company portion of the claims; should probably lose its identity and become just a part of the claims again. It should also be removed from the assessor's records if possible.
3. Concerning the Esmeralda County assignment. It would be less costly and more efficient to obtain a "preliminary title report" from the owner who is now offering it for sale and then evaluate the exceptions, exclusions and any "corrective" actions that may be recommended.

4. In any future evaluation of the "owned" parcels relationships to each other; the danger may exist that the researcher will sink in a mire of historical detail and rights which were "acquired", "lost", "regained", etc.--but which old rights may no longer be relevant now that they are all one group of interrelated properties under a single ownership.

It might be wise to obtain a legal opinion on the following premise that was related to me.

"Under a single ownership of several properties (especially when contiguous) the then "merged rights" creates a new situation and thereafter an individual claim or parcels rights and limitations only re-assert themselves when that claim or parcel (as then described) is deeded-out" to another owner. At that time they carry only the rights THEN granted and the area then described."

I was told that under this premis even the original "net area" granted in a patent can alter thru the years, such as being "deeded-out" by claim name instead of patent number. It occurs to me to wonder if this affects "apex agreements" if all the units within the agreement come into a single ownership.

In my opinion the second part of Phase 2 is of current and pressing importance. I see it as divided into two portions:

1. Other peoples rights on, under, or over our claims or properties.
2. Our rights on, under, or over other peoples claims or properties.

In pursuing these two divisions of the study it would probably be best to finish the document evaluations and the surveys in the order given.

- A. The various "apex agreements" may be critical - both to our rights and those of other owners in the area. First, if possible, request the legal advisors to evaluate the effect of "single ownership" as outlined above on these documents. Some may be more important than others.

A complete collection of them should then be made and they should be registered, indexed and mapped, with "condensed" explanations wherever practical. The complete group then kept together for ready reference.

- B. The same should be done with respect to ALL of the title policies we have in the Tonopah Mining District. We then know what limitations came with our purchases and what properties have potential rights on, under or over our area.
- C. Preliminary title reports should be obtained, then analyzed and indexed as those above, on all the "unowned" or "islands" of properties within Hughes Tool Company blocks or areas. My reasons are appended below. *
- D. Adverse possession and users. When the time comes to check this our crew or mill men could unobtrusively make a physical examination of the claim being done and list all users or uses they observe. The investigation should then be pursued thru assessor's records etc. but every effort made to keep paper work at a reasonable level. In this it may be necessary to find a more practical method of determining the extent of the claimants and their rights.

When the above items A thru D are complete, the various rights of other people on, under or over Hughes Tool properties can be assembled; conversely, any rights the Hughes Tool Company may have on, under or over these unowned "islands" should become apparent.

Sincerely,

Helen H. Wharton

* Why preliminary title reports should be obtained. A combination of time, accuracy, local curiosity and expense.

The Title company has already compiled title-chains on most of these properties. They can issue a report without arousing local speculation while if I, or any of the other employees or even some stranger starts checking documents or indexes, it arouses unnecessary curiosity and perhaps unfounded rumors no matter how discretely attempted.

Most important however is accuracy. I observed these past few weeks several inaccurate and partial indexing of filed documents in both Nye and Esmeralda Courthouses. It has been indicated also that all documents may not be in the book they might be expected to be in. There are at least eight indexes in a chain of title. The Title company has probably already located ALL the errors and deficiencies and can be more accurate and thorough. In the long run it is less expensive than trying to duplicate a small title plant ourselves.
